PIONEER WASHER.

E. G. BOLTER,
AGENT FOR OREGON AND WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

THIS CELEBRATED WASHING MACHINE IS now for the first time introduced to the Oregon public It is unrivalled for its simplicity, durability and the rapidity and ease of its action Washing the dirtiest clothes perfectly clean in from five to ten minutes, with but slight labor, and lasting with proper care, for ten years The worst and fast of clothing in washing by this machine is vastly less than by the old-fashioned process of washing It does its work by a reverse motion in forcing the water through the clothes

It having a tight cover, the steam thus assists materially in cleansing the clothes, and also avoids the inhaling of steam from hot suds

This Machine captured the Special Premium at the California State Fair, and all that have used it pronounce it an invaluable adjunct to all housekeepers and families and washing men and washing women

It has been extensively introduced throughout the State of California, and receives the universal commendation of all who have used it

The Presidency at the West.

A contemporary speaking of the Republican nomination for the next Presidency, alluded to the fact that every man mentioned in connection with that nomination is from the West General Grant, Mr Wade, Gen Sheridan, Mr Colfax and Chief Justice Chase, who lead the list, are Western men, belonging to the States of Illinois, Ohio, and Indiana Probably one of these gentlemen will get the nomination,—and very few doubt of General Grant being the candidate and he is the most Western of them all. The Democrats are mostly silent on the subject of their nomination, but we have seen the names of Mr Richardson mentioned in connection with it,—and he, too, is an Illinoisan It would be nothing strange if both parties were to take all four of their candidates from the West in 1868 They came very near doing so in 1864, when Mr Lincoln and Mr Johnson were from the West, and so was Mr. Pendleton, the Democratic candidate for the Vice Presidency Even Gen McClellan's associations were more with the West than with the East. In 1860, all the presidential candidates were Western men,—Mr John Bell, of Tennessee, Mr. Breckinridge, of Kentucky, Mr Douglas, of Illinois, and Mr Lincoln, of Illinois, and so was one of the candidates for the Vice Presidency,—General Lane, of Oregon. Two New England men were then in nomination for the Vice Presidency,—Mr. Everett, of Massachusetts, and Mr. Hamlin, of Maine. The latter was elected, but only to be crowded off the ticket in 1861, to make way for a Western man.

In 1856, the nominations were divided with some approach to equality, Mr. Buchanan being from the East, and Col Fremont from the West, while Mr Dayton was from the East, and Mr Breckinridge from the West. Still, the preponderance was in favor of the West, for Mr Fillmore, the conservative or know nothing candidate, was a resident of Buffalo, which is "the jumping off" place of the East, and the second candidate on that ticket was a Western man—Mr. Donelson, of Tennessee. In 1852, the tickets were decidedly Eastern in their formation, the Democrats putting up Gen. Pierce, a New Hampshire man, the Whigs Gen. Scott, and the free-soilers Mr Hale. The second candidates were from the South on the principal tickets. The contest of 1848 was between Gen. Cass, a Western man, and Gen Taylor, a Southwestern man; and on the ticket with Gen Cass was Gen. Butler, of Kentucky, a very strong Western man. The free soil ticket had only Eastern men on it, Van Buren and Adams, of New York and Massachusetts. Four years earlier, the West had the higher nominations,—Mr Clay, of Kentucky, and Mr. Polk, of Tennessee, while the East had the secondary nominations, in the persons of Mr. Frelinghuysen, of New Jersey, and Mr Dallas, of Pennsylvania The great but worse than fruitless Whig victory of 1840 was won under the lead of Gen Harrison, a noted Western man, who overthrew Mr. Van Buren, an Eastern man.

Had Mr. Van Buren been a Western man, he would have been re elected, but he was from the East, and had to share the fate of the Adamses, father and son, neither of whom could secure a re election, because they were Eastern men, and from Massachusetts, which was an aggravation of their original offence that was not to be undoned, and ought to have led to their impeachment Gen. Harrison would have laid out Mr. Van Buren cold in 1836, could the Whigs have united on him. There were two Western candidates up that year—Gen. Harrison, of Ohio, and Judge White, of Tennessee, and the Democratic candidate for the Vice Presidency, Col. Johnson, was a Tennessean. In 1832, President Jackson, of Tennessee, and Mr Clay, of Kentucky, both Western men, were the principal candidates, with Eastern men for the second places—Mr. Van Buren and Mr. Sergeant, the latter a Pennsylvanian. In 1828 there was a square fight for the Presidency, a Western man, Gen. Jackson, and an Eastern man, J. Q. Adams, heading the ticket, and it is a notable fact that not one Western Electoral vote was given for the Eastern man Even Kentucky and Ohio, destined soon to become the stanchest of whig States, voted solidly for General Jackson; and the only Southern votes Mr Adams received were six from Maryland and three from Delaware. In 1824, Mr. Adams received but one Western vote, given by Illinois. The Western vote was given for Gen Jackson or Mr Clay. That was the contested election in which the Western Electoral vote was large. Western votes till then, had been but few. They numbered only 31 in 1820, in 1820, they were 38; and in 1824, 52. These figures do not include the votes of the new South western States, which, however, were not numerous—only 8 in 1820. The election of 1820 was not contested, only one vote being given against the re election of Mr. Monroe

No western man made an appearance on the stage till 1824, a Presidential candidate. Since that time, western men have, with some exceptions, been the most prominent men of every Presidential contest, and now they may be said to be masters of the situation, and we know them well enough to be aware that it is idle to expect them to give up the advantages which they possess, particularly when they have the most eminent military and naval men among their citizens Something has been said about Admiral Farragut for the Presidency, but the Admiral is a western man, a native of Tennessee. It is possible that New York or Pennsylvania, which are powerful States, may hereafter give a President to the Republic, but as to New England, we should as soon expect to see a Pope of Rome elected from among her citizens as a President of the United States It is doubtful if she will ever be allowed to see one of her sons made Vice President. Circumstances have sent that office up in the estimation of politicians Three times in twenty-four years the man who held it has passed into the Presidential chair, and always with marked effect on politics. More care and caution will be exercised in filling it hereafter than formerly It will be filled with direct reference to Presidential possibilities, and, therefore it will be kept from New Englanders. Yankees were born to obey, not to have even the chance of ruling. It has been so from the beginning, and it will be so to the end. The Southern and Middle States kept us down at first. Then the South and West combined for our depression Now the West is strong enough to do the work alone, and will do it It is sometimes said the sceptre has departed from the East, but it is notso—the East never had the sceptre to lose But what is now the West will lose the sceptre as the West extends The States will serve Ohio, and Indiana, and Illinois, and other States, as those States now serve the Atlantic States, and it may be that the new States will be less prejudiced against the East than are the existing Western States Under the workings of railways, steamboats, and electric telegraphs, new States will spring up in the Occident with a rapidity unknown to past times, and those States which date from the early years of this century will be thrown into the background quite as completely as New England has been thus thrown Thus the avenger may come in time, and our support be found worth seeking by men who now count us as so many outcast communities, to be looked down upon, and treated with coldness, if not with contempt.—Boston Traveller

The French Senate Chamber.

Under date of July 6th, John W Forney writes from Paris a description of the French Senate Chamber, comparing it with the National Senate Chamber in the United States. One fact which he states contains a broad commentary on the opposite systems of government in the two countries In the French Senate there are no seats for spectators The people are ignored In the American Senate the amplest possible accommodations are prepared to invite spectators. The people are respected, for they have the power to command respect Mr Forney's description is as follows:

The French Senate Chamber is better arranged, in some respects, than our own at Washington. There are no seats for spectators, but the superior accommodations for the members are evident at a glance The hall is semi circular, ninety-two feet in diameter, covered by a hemispherical canopy beautifully decorated by allegories of Law, Justice, Wisdom, and Patriotism. This canopy is supported by eighteen composite columns In a semi-circular recess are the seats of the President and Secretaries, approached by steps. The cupola of this recess is supported by eight columns, between which are statues of certain orthodox French statesmen and marshals. The tablets of the stenographers are near the seats of the Senators, of whom there are one hundred and sixty-five. These seats rise gradually, and are spacious, with a neat desk before each Prince Napoleon's seat is the first of the bottom row, near the entrance to the right, and next follow those of the Cardinals and Marshals, who are also Senators Opposite, in a row, fronting the President's chair, are seven seats for the Minister of State, the President of the Council of State, and the counsellors appointed to support the measures proposed by the Government Directly below the President's seat is the tribune, from which the Senators speak when they make an elaborate argument or oration. The arrangements are admirable, with the exception of the significant exclusion of the people The light is soft, and the ventilation and acoustics (I was told) as perfect as art and money can make them. This is a historical hall. After the revolution of 1789-91, the Directory that succeeded Robespierre had their sessions here, and when Bonaparte came in, the Consuls met here, and then the "Senate Conservators," who sat until the erection of the Chambers of Peers, in 1819. Louis Blanc held his Socialist meeting of workmen here in 1848, but since 1852 it has resumed its old name and been devoted to its old purposes. The Senators are all appointed by the Emperor and their sessions are secret, though the debates, like those of the Corps Legislatif, are regularly given to the public. The late discussion, even in the Senate, and of course in the more popular branch, called out by the enormous military expenses, chiefly the result of the fatal Mexican expedition, have been so violent and so clear an echo of an angry public sentiment, that some say the Emperor may exercise his prerogative, and, for the sake of the public peace and his own safety, prorogue both bodies.

Sights and Snakes in Brazil.

A correspondent of the Philadelphia Press writes from Para, on the Amazon.

There are seldom less than a dozen vessels loading here for foreign ports, and many of them are models of nautical beauty. The strangers stopping here are continually counting and criticising these vessels, talking discursively and knowingly of the Amazon and its wonderful productions, but they contemptuously ignore the cuma. Yesterday one of these queer looking things came down with the tide, and hauled up at the end of the pier within fifty yards of where I was writing. She had neither spars nor sails, but had a palm toldo over the stern, and another extending over the bow, giving her much the appearance of an oval "windrow" of hay afloat. She had a family of natives on board, and was laden to the water's edge with salt fish and copaiba balsam, which at last cost the natives eleven months work (as they labor) to collect. She had floated with the current from near the Paxiri country, on the left bank of the Negro, and had the usual pets on board, consisting of birds, monkeys, and what I took to be a fine young boa constrictor, until, offering to handle it, I was jerked back by a strong armed native, who immediately went through a pantomime, expressive of a man dying by poison, I had mistaken the deadly surucucusi, or Mai de agua for a boa, and but for the Indian I might have got in an awkward scrape. This serpent is properly a constrictor, growing to the length of twelve feet, and very powerful, but he is also exceedingly venomous, and his bite is unanimously agreed to be incurable. Not long ago a planter near the city had an uncommonly large and fine specimen of the Mai de Agua, which was kept in a bamboo cage for security, but from which it one night somehow contrived to make its escape, when it commenced a row by chasing the cats up and down the verandah, overturning chairs, water jars, and whatever came in its way. The owner, hearing the disturbance, but all unsuspecting the cause, stepped out of his room, was met by the reptile, and received its deadly fangs in his breast with full effect. In less than an hour he was dead. They have strong tastes here in the matter of pets. Large serpents are in especial favor, and a gentleman who ought to know the commercial value of the article, tells me he will pay five dollars per foot for any healthy snake measuring over fifteen feet in length. Black tigers, too, are scarce and in request. I am assured by the same gentleman that a pair of fine ones might be sold for £100, and that a fellow wanted to sell me a little punch monkey for the modest sum of $35, gold At the Consul's warehouse there is a serpent which has been an inmate of the establishment for the last four years, and is probably as tame as a snake ever becomes His home is at large box, where he is supposed to pass his time in the tranquil observation of the various commercial operations of the house, and in digesting his last rat, (eaten about two months ago) In point of fact, however, the box is empty, and his snakeship inhabits the darkest recesses of the warehouse, where, hidden among the various packages of cocoa, seringa, coffee, etc., he keeps out of view for the most part, frequently being invisible for a week at a time, when some inquisitive customer will be startled by a hiss, sounding like the escape pipe of a steam engine, and finding himself nearly on the coils of a serpent fifteen feet long. A few days since an Irishman was directed to bring out a barrel supposed to be empty, but on lifting it he thought it partly filled with rubber, and was directed to empty it accordingly He reached his hand toward the bottom of the barrel and was instantly seized by the serpent, which had carefully coiled itself away in the empty flour barrel The hand was bitten entirely through, nor could the fangs be disengaged from the tangled flesh until the assistance of a couple of tapuyos had been obtained, who, by pulling the hand back and prying the jaws forward, succeeded in loosening the fangs. When I first saw the reptile he was out of temper through having been routed by the removal of some packages among which he had taken up his quarters. He had one turn of him around a nail keg, and I was invited to test his power by tugging at his tail, which I did, but he came about with such a startling hiss, and exhibited such an open expression of countenance, that I involuntarily dropped the tail, to the intense delight of half a dozen grinning darkies. There is absolutely no danger to be apprehended from these pythons; even the deadly Mai de agua is seldom seen, so hard to find even, when some naturalist desires a specimen, that traders and travelers scarcely gave the danger a thought. There is far more to be dreaded from the reptiles, such as centipedes, black scorpions and tarantulas, but the traveler or naturalist in this region will find that the insect tribe are much more troublesome than all the large reptiles and beasts combined. To return to the canoa and her freight. She has been a long time flo

Pearls at Random Strung.

The "conservative" literature of the day abounds in gems that sparkle with uncommon brilliancy. As these choice specimens are by no means rare, a collection of them may be presented with very little trouble. Almost every publication in the interest of the Democratic party might be made to contribute to this elegant collection, so that the embarrassment in making it up does not arise from an absence, but an excess of materials. There happens to be one Democratic monthly magazine published in the United States. It makes great pretensions to literary ability, which, judged by Democratic rules, it certainly does possess. We, therefore, appropriately introduce our compilation of choice extracts with the following from the Old Guard. Discoursing very learnedly on "hereditary characteristics," with a view of illustrating the "Democratic" idea that some men are born to rule and others to be governed, that magazine elegantly says:

History is full of this proof of hereditary character. This country has, alas! a painful example in the late Mr. Lincoln, who illustrated in his life the traits of his unhappy father Inlow, and his more unhappy mother, Betsy Hanks. And now after he is gone, we are threatened with a universal amalgamation of the numerous political breed of Lincoln's negroes. Alas! poor country! It would be cruel but it would be a blessing to our country to starve all the fruits of such intercourse as dog fanciers do a bad breed of puppies.

The gross idea in the refinement of Democratic philosophy! But the sickening filthiness of the idea is not its only characteristic. Abraham Lincoln, like many other great men, was of humble ancestry. What business had his parents to be poor? And because they were poor, because they followed in the humble walks of life, they are sneered at by this groveling "Democratic" aristocrat, and their whole class spoken of with that spirit which a pseudo pauper aristocracy always has for those whom they regard as underlings. Yet the party whose literature abounds in articles like that from which the above extract is taken, professes to be the exclusive champion of the masses of the people!

We present another elegant extract from this Democratic organ. When the great work of the war, by the aid and through the instrumentality of the Democratic party is undone, then, the Millennial Sunday will resume its march, and the Democratic dreams of the golden age of the long living Methuselahs of the future [illegible] in vain, the [illegible] of Sidney Ashburton Stewell Jackson, and their [illegible] will be immortalized forever for having made [illegible] understood, and were true champions of Democracy and martyrs of American civilization.

This is cant run [illegible]. Wise men have any reason to doubt after reading [illegible] article, that the cause of the rebellion [illegible] is the cause of the Democratic party [illegible] Or that reason has any [illegible] after this [illegible] that the Democracy will undertake [illegible] the "Lost Cause" and resurrect the doctrine of secession on the first opportunity?

The Metropolitan Record of New York is a [illegible] Democratic organ [illegible] gratulation in just such [illegible] as the sun shines, [illegible] rats are tired of paying rent and abandon [illegible] the whole case as a swindle. [illegible] years will bring us a share in the [illegible] debt, and if that blessing is not [illegible] we don't know the people. [illegible] we think more [illegible] Ah, and we think more we that [illegible] heartily damn the blessing and he all [illegible] Myself.

The man who has a bond or a government bank, and the man who has a stake in the country at all [illegible] in preserving in honor and [illegible] the numerous declarations like this [illegible] may be found in the Democratic platforms [illegible] of power by that party would at [illegible] The only way to fortify against this [illegible] is to keep the opposition to the Copperheads out, and oppose them everywhere [illegible] in town [illegible] relations of national politics.

[illegible] Democratic paper in Michigan pays its respects to [illegible] Stickles a man who "has perilled his soul and shed his blood for his country, in this [illegible]."

Gen. Stickles, the one-legged cross of a murderer [illegible] of the Second District, drives about [illegible] with a coach and four and with the [illegible] ing of a European despot. Putting [illegible] back," is the old adage and he [illegible] to the devil" be it with this miserable [illegible], but it is a pity he would not drive his [illegible] d of the country there also.

The New York Day Book the great expounder [illegible] Democracy has the following:

"No Democrat, other than a traitor, is reported as [illegible] that no man has [illegible] the authority [illegible] to be sent. We think that if we were one [illegible] victims, we should be very apt to pop Abe or [illegible] which he would [illegible] while in authority."

Harper's Bazar has a very [illegible] favorite remedy [illegible] the Day Book's party. The same paper [illegible] this paragraph:

"W. Burnett seems to have the whole of the [illegible] Copperhead [illegible] all the Mongrel newspapers [illegible] a miserable [illegible] the thieves and [illegible] about Washington engaged in a "conspiracy to hang him." It seems to be a popular [illegible] with the Mongrel party that it is necessary [illegible] the son to justify the murder of the mother [illegible]."

[illegible] and then a Southern Democratic paper is [illegible] which is [illegible] as rabid as some of its South [illegible] colaborers. The Jackson (Miss.) [illegible] press is one of these, and in proof of its orthodoxy [illegible] quotes the following from its columns:

"The negroes must be deported or exterminated! All the short-legged imps of darkness, [illegible] black or brown, whether negroes or Injuns, whether Mogules or mulattoes, should at once be dismissed and that forever, from the [illegible] from the sight and even from the thoughts of the heaven born white race."

The Chicago Times is quite as complimentary in its notices of our great soldiers as some of the [illegible] papers of Oregon. It has the following:

"The country has had enough, and more than enough, of Phil Sheridan's impudence. If the President respects himself and the office he holds, he will straightway kick the insolent, drunken upstart out of the office of district commander."

And the paper which claims to be the representative organ of Democratic sentiment in this State,—we mean the Herald,—calls General Grant a "traitor to his country," denounces him for his "treasonable acts," pronounces his "treason" far more hateful and wicked than that of Jefferson Davis, and declares it "has its only parallel in that of Benedict Arnold." We might publish extracts like the above by the yard, but we have already given enough for samples. Is a party whose record is one secession, rebellion, [illegible] and civil war, and whose policy is avowedly the same which it has heretofore been, fit to be entrusted with the destinies of the nation?

A Tribune special (August 24th) says that since the late action of the President, letters have been received, by prominent Republicans, from members of Congress, which states the only remedy left to insure reconstruction is impeachment of the President. These letters are significant, from the fact that several of them are from members who, at the last session of Congress, were known conservatives and opposed to the impeachment. They further state that the prominent movers of impeachment are busy at work already, canvassing among members to test the feeling.

Gen. J. L. Bartlett, of Binghamton, New York, lately appointed Minister to Sweden, is a brother of the Rev. Wm. Bartlett, of Brooklyn. When the news of his appointment reached Binghamton a party of his friends were collected together, among whom was a blacksmith, prosperous and respected, who seemed pursued by the announcement on his appointment thereon proves: "Joe! Joe a minister [illegible] Joe hasn't any more religion than I have. Why didn't they send Bill?"

STATE ITEMS.

The County Hospital at the Dalles has six inmates.

A week ago last Thursday, says a Eugene paper, Wm. Miller, residing at Coast Fork, a few miles above here, had a thresher and three sets of harness burned. It is supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

A few nights ago at Elk Creek, on the John Day, while Mr. Cummins was standing guard over his horses, he saw three Indians crawling up towards him. He fired upon them and they left. Next morning on following the tracks a short distance, a dead Indian was found.

We have received the first number of the Capital City Chronicle, the new Democratic paper published at Salem, by Messrs. Upton & Neltner. It is of good size and presents a creditable appearance. Its Democracy is of the kind exhibited in the extracts from various Democratic papers published in our columns to-day.

Mr. Taylor, who came down from Silverton a day or two ago, reports that, on Wednesday evening a little boy of Mrs. B. Stanton, who resides near the Abiqua bridge, on the Oregon City road, accidently shot himself with a rifle making a wound in his chin and head which, it was thought, would prove fatal in a few hours.

The State Journal (Eugene) says that the sale of school lands in Lane county took place at the court house last Wednesday. The lands sold comprised tracts from 320 down to 10 acres. The highest price for any single tract was $4 25 per acre, but most of it went considerably below this figure. The total amount of the sale was $9,542 90.

On the afternoon of the 27th ult. a fatal accident occurred to Joseph Vezenaro while in the employ of Chas. McCall at Westport, on the lower Columbia river. The end of a rolling log struck him, breaking both bones of the left arm and several ribs. He died at noon the next day and was buried at Westport. He was a native of Montreal and about forty years of age.

Parties are still prosecuting their researches for quartz in the mountains about the headwaters of the Willamette. The Eugene Journal says: Messrs. C. H. Moses, H. F. Stratton and Squire Wilbur, who left here two weeks ago to make a more thorough investigation of the richness of the quartz lead they had previously found on the McKenzie river have returned. They feel confident that they have "struck it," and will make preparations to work the rock as soon as possible. They took out several tons of rock and say that it bears as good an appearance as that which they tested.

We learn from the Corvallis Gazette, that, on Sunday night last, Mrs. Lyle, of Salem, arrived in Corvallis and stopped at Mr. Altree's, assuming a fictitious name. She attempted self-destruction. So nearly did she succeed that those around closed her eyes, thinking life extinct. Medical aid was resorted to, which resulted finally in bringing the unfortunate woman out of her deathly stupor. Her husband was telegraphed to, and in due time reached Corvallis by stage. He took his unhappy victim of insanity to the Asylum at Portland.

A letter received from Canon, dated at Camp Watson, August 25th, informs the Mountaineer that his party composed of thirteen men under command of Frederick Wingear and all well armed and equipped, left Canyon City last Thursday for the Crooked river country, intending to be gone at least six weeks. At Officers ranch, on the South Fork of John Day river, they were taken for Indians, causing quite a scare among the few settlers in that vicinity. They intend prospecting the Crooked river country for gold and other precious metals and as thoroughly as their limited time and the Indians will permit them.

The Mountaineer has the following from Canyon City: On Sunday, the 18th instant, two teamsters were attacked by four robbers near Burkey's Ranch and the Tye Valley road, and after being fired upon, were bound to trees and robbed of their money and horses. After the robbers left, the teamsters cut themselves loose and immediately started for Auburn, and told their story to Virtue, who, with seven men, well armed, started in pursuit of the robbers. He followed them toward Canyon City, and on Saturday, the 25th, captured them on a small creek above the road about twenty miles this side of Canyon City. Their names are Wm. Jones, John Hargrave, Alexander and Brown. They were well armed and showed fight, but supposing they were outnumbered and surrounded, they gave up. They were much surprised to find after they were taken, that it was done by Sheriff Virtue and two assistants. These men are well known at Canyon City.

Napoleon and Mexico.

Napoleon is endeavoring through his friends in the French legislative chambers, to throw from his own shoulders at least a part of the responsibility of his ill-started Mexican expedition. M. Berryer, in the course of his remarks, stated that the idea of establishing an Imperial Government over the Mexicans was suggested to the Emperor by General Prim, from Orizaba, on the 17th of March 1862, of which the following is the conclusion:

"For these and other reasons—reasons which must be clear to the mind of your Majesty—you will understand that the immense majority in this country are not and cannot be monarchical. If logic be not sufficient to demonstrate it, we have proof in the fact that the flags of the Allies have now for two months been floating over Vera Cruz, and though we, at this moment, hold the important towns of Cordova, Orizaba and Tehuacan, in which there has remained no Mexican force whatever, not any authority but the civil authority, neither conservatives nor partisans of a monarchy have ever made the slightest demonstration to prove to the Allies that those partisans exist. Far be it from me, Sire, to suppose that your Imperial Majesty's power could not raise up a throne in Mexico for the House of Austria. Your Majesty guides the destinies of a great nation, rich in intelligence and brave men—rich in resources, and carrying out with enthusiasm the views of your Imperial Majesty. It would be easy to conduct Prince Maximilian to the capital and to crown him King; but this King will never meet in the country with any support but that of the Conservative chiefs, who themselves never once thought of setting up a Monarchy when they were in power, and who only think of it when they are dispersed, vanquished and in exile. A few wealthy individuals will also acknowledge a foreign Monarch who comes to them supported by your Majesty's troops; but he will have nothing to depend upon the moment that your support is withdrawn. He will fall from the throne raised by your Majesty, as other powerful men of the earth will fall when your Imperial Majesty's mantle ceases to cover and protect them. I know very well that your Imperial Majesty, from your high sense of justice, would not force this country to change its institutions so radically if the country did not desire and demand it. But the chiefs of the Conservative party who have lands at Vera Cruz tell us that it will be sufficient to consult the higher classes of society without paying any regard to the others; and it is this that agitates the public mind and makes every one fear that violence is to be done to the national will. The English troops who were to come up to Orizaba, and who had prepared their means of transport, returned to their ships the moment they knew that there was a greater number of French troops arriving than were stipulated for in the London Convention. Your Majesty will judge of the importance of that fact. I ask a thousand pardons of your Majesty for writing so long a letter, but I thought that the true mode of worthily responding to your Majesty's goodness to me was to tell you the whole truth on the state of the country, as I understand it. By doing so I shall not only have fulfilled a duty, but proved the respectful attachment I feel for your Imperial Majesty.

THE GROWTH OF NEW YORK.—The Sun thus notices the wonderful growth of the great Metropolis, notwithstanding the many drawbacks resulting from the war;

The number of buildings now in course of erection (we are told) is probably as great as at any former period in the history of the city. Streets which a few years ago were lined with dirty, dilapidated tenement houses, are being entirely renovated. Old rookeries are being torn down that costly stores may take their places. Commerce and trade reign supreme in localities where wretchedness and filth held undisputed sway. Lispenard, White, Walker and Church streets are noble examples. The majority of the new buildings appear to be gotten up regardless of expense. They are not alone solid and substantial, embracing all the newest improvements, but are besides beautiful in design and finish. They are creditable to the owners and architects, as well as ornamental to the city. No metropolis in the Old World can to-day boast of having as many first class stores and warehouses as New York.

A young widow at Quincy, Ill., met a stranger on the street, and asked him the way; he asked her if she was not a widow; she said she was; he said he was a widower; a Doctor from Palmyra, Mo., and proposed matrimony on the spot; she blushed and hesitated—wouldn't he come home and see her friends about it; the interview was satisfactory; the marriage was arranged for the next morning; the widow's cash ($40) got into the Doctor's pocket; he went to get shaved and has never returned. He even left her, cruel man, standing in the public square, while he just "run over to the barber's." There's no such Doctor in Palmyra, and the curtain drops upon a woman in tears."

The Alta of the 27th ult. has the following:

We notice in Tucker's widow, on Montgomery street, a small painting in oil, upon a gault background, of Judas betraying Christ with a kiss, attributed to Cimabus, A. D. 1243. This picture, together with a magnificent bronze clock and two bronze statuettes of great excellence, were taken from an Austrian religious institution about the time of the battle of Sadowa, by a Prussian officer, and were sold to the present owner, who came here recently from Europe, and has left them here on exhibition during his temporary absence on a visit to Alaska.

The Tidiout (Pa.) Journal tells a story of a dying man at whose request a dance was held the night previous to his decease, in the building which he occupied, for the purpose of raising funds to pay for "a decent funeral." The receipts were $55. "Glory be to God!" said the dying man; now I'll have a decent burial, and the children can ride in a hack."

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—The Times' special correspondent has learned from official quarters that the Administration is considering a supplemental proclamation of amnesty, universal in terms, though it will include rebel army officers below the rank of Major General, and many officers below the rank of Captain. It may be several days before the order is issued.

Important official correspondence between the President and General Sickles was considered in the Cabinet meeting to-day, and it was finally decided to publish the Attorney General's opinion on it.

The order explains what appears to be a contradiction in statements in some papers regarding the correspondence—it having been stated that Order No. 10 had, and had not been revoked, by Gen Grant. It appears that Sickles did not get a dispatch from Grant, requesting him [Here the line was severed below Eugene City.]

Rheumatism Cured!

State of Oregon, County of Multnomah—ss.

I JEREMIAH BROCK, BEING DULY SWORN, SAY that I am fifty-three years of age, that I reside in Vanuhill County, State of Oregon. I came to Portland on business, on horseback, from my home this morning. When I left home I could scarcely walk or stand on my foot, from Rheumatism, which has afflicted me for the last eight years. I was standing in Wilson's stable, on First street, in this city, when I heard Mr. Rennick's offer to bet that he would take out the Rheumatism in any case in twenty minutes. Rennicks offered to bet $100 that he could do it. I went to Mr. Rennick's house and he applied the Liniment to my leg, and in twenty minutes my leg felt sound and limber, and as well as ever. JEREMIAH BROCK.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this August 29th, 1867.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.—At a regular meeting of Multnomah, Lodge No. 12, I O O F, Saturday evening, Aug 31st, the following Preamble and Resolutions were offered and adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased Divine Providence to remove from our midst by death, on the morning of August 20th, 1867, our beloved brother, Thomas C. O'Connor, an old and tried brother in the cause of Temperance, resisting from an early age, the great temptations to indulge in the intoxicating cup. Therefore

Resolved, That in the demise of Brother O'Connor, our community has lost a good and upright citizen, his family a devoted husband and family, and this Lodge one of its most zealous and upright members.

Resolved, That while we deeply mourn the loss of our brother, yet we are satisfied from a knowledge of his upright life, the terrible accident that laid him in the grave was but the means of removing his spirit to a better land.

Resolved, That we will ever cherish the memory of his many virtues, trusting that his well spent life is rewarded by admission into the Celestial Lodge above, where Faith, Hope and Charity ever abound.

Resolved, That we, as a body, tender our sincere condolence to the widow and family of the deceased in their severe affliction.

Resolved, That the Charter of this Lodge be draped in mourning and as a further token of the appreciation of his worth, the officers and members of this Lodge wear the usual badge of mourning for twenty days.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be furnished the DAILY OREGONIAN, Daily Herald, Pacific Christian Advocate and the Corvallis Gazette, and that the Secretary be instructed to prepare and forward a copy, under seal of the Lodge, to the widow of the deceased.

JACOB STITZEL,
WARD S. STEVENS,
O. CROM,
Committee.

SECOND DIVISION.

Mechanics' Brass Band; Chief Engineer and Assistants, Portland Fire Department; Columbian Engine Co No. 3; Vigilance Hook and Ladder Co. No 1.

Thos. G. Young, Chief Engineer, is Marshal of the day.

SEVERELY INJURED.—On Saturday morning, just after the arrival of the Senator, Mr. G. W. Taylor, a drayman, met with a very serious accident at the P. T. Co.'s wharf. He was engaged in loading his dray and while standing in front of it, his horse started suddenly, catching Mr. T. between the front part of the dray frame, or bed, and one of the posts of the wharf. The horse, a powerful and rather intractable animal, exerted his utmost strength, swinging two or three times to the right and left, as a stalled horse will do, while Mr. Taylor was held as in a vice between the dray and the post. He was relieved as quickly as possible from his perilous situation by the bystanders, but not till he was badly hurt, both in his bowels and upon one of his arms. The flesh of the latter was terribly mangled. The unfortunate man was taken home and Dr. Chapman attended to his injuries. Yesterday he was more comfortable than could have been reasonably supposed possible, considering the nature of his hurts.

AUCTION SALE OF REAL ESTATE.—At the executor's sale by Mr. A. B. Richardson, auctioneer, on Saturday, of lots and parts of blocks belonging to the estates of C. N. Hamilton and Wm. A. Ridinger, the following prices were obtained: In block 74, north half of lot 1, brought $6,000; south half of lot 1, $5,425; north half of lot 2, $3,300; south half do., $2,450; north half of lot 3, $2,200; south half do., $2,150; north half of lot 4, $2,000. South half of lot 7 in block 16, sold for $1,000. Lots 1 and 2 in block 192, $1,010. North half of block 7, Caruther's addition, $320. In block 32, Caruther's addition, lot 1 sold for $110; lot 2, $100; lot 3, $90; lot 4, $100; lot 5, $36; lot 6, $77 50; lot 7, $67 50; lot 8, $51.

MILITARY.—The editor of the Mountaineer has a private letter from Arizona which speaks of several officers of the regular army, who were formerly volunteer officers well known here: Dr. David Walker, formerly Assistant Surgeon at Camp Watson, is at Camp McPherson, Arizona. Lt. Chas. Hobart, formerly of the 1st Oregon Cavalry, is Adjutant of the 6th U. S. Cavalry. Lt. Yard, who was recruiting officer at Portland and A. Q. M. at Cape Disappointment, is Major in the 10th Cavalry. Lt. W. V Spencer is appointed into one of the new regiments. Lt. Purdy is 1st Lieutenant of one of the companies stationed at Camp McPherson.

MATCH GAME OF BASE BALL.—A match game was played on Saturday between the Tumwater Club of Oregon City and the Young Pioneer Club of this city. Both clubs did some fine playing, but the Tumwaters proved too much for our boys, beating them 55 to 44 runs. After the conclusion of the game the Young Pioneers treated their antagonists to a fine dinner, set out in an orchard near by. The Senator made an extra trips to bring the Tumwaters down and carry them back again. We are told that the Tumwaters on Friday, beat the second nine of the Clackamas club, very handsomely.

BUTTE CREEK LIME.—Of several specimens of Butte Creek limestone sent to this city on Saturday, we have received one through the politeness of Mr Frank Plummer. The stone is a bluish grey, apparently made up of pyrites and shells and is very unlike any other specimens, we have ever seen on this coast. The mine is situated on the bank of Butte Creek, about 16 miles from Salem, and belongs to Frank Cooper. Mr Belden, of this city, has received a specimen which he will subject to a critical test.

ALDER STREET IMPROVEMENT.—On Saturday, the contract for grading Alder street was let by the Committee on Streets and Street Commissioner, to Mr Rhodes. Owners, of course, are permitted to grade in front of their lots, if they choose to do so rather than pay assessments. Mr. Boone was awarded the contract for constructing the side and cross walks, with the same reservation to property owners.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—The public schools of this city will open this morning, under the general direction of Mr. Strahlen, as heretofore. Mr. J. P. Garlick takes the place of Mr. R. K. Warren in the Harrison street school. A school for colored children will be opened at the corner of Columbia and Fourth streets, under the management of Mrs. Young.

CHANGE OF PROPRIETORS.—The Oregon stage line has changed hands, having passed from Mr. Corbett to J. D. Carr & Co. The new proprietors, also, have an assignment of the remainder of Mr Corbett's mail contract. As yet there are no changes made in local agents of the line, Mr. Corbett's employes being retained by Carr & Co.

PAPERS.—Mr. Charles Barrett has placed us under obligations for copies of Eastern papers and pictorials received by the steamer Saturday evening. Among others, we have Harpers Weekly, Godey for September, N. Y. Herald, Scientific American, Army and Navy Journal, N. Y. Clipper and Frank Leslie's Illustrated.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.—A charge of assault and battery, brought by P. S Streibig against J Dongherty, was tried before Just'ce Gradon on Saturday, resulting in the acquittal of the accused. Another charge against the same party, of making threats against a child of Streibig, will be heard to-day.

LOOSE.—Somebody's buffalo has got loose, judging from the posters stuck up all about town. The boys are hugely delighted with the rather rushing pictures of the beast, and every mother's son of them is frantic to go and see Lee & Ryland's circus, with which the buffalo stunt is connected.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKET REVIEW.—For the latest commercial news from San Francisco, consult our report on 4th page. It is as late as any of the reports received by steamer, and much more comprehensive.

SWAN ISLAND.—Some needed repairs to the dredger having been completed work will be resumed to-day. The second scow was launched on Saturday and will be put immediately to use.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.—Judge Deady, to-day begins the fall term of the U. S. Circuit Court.

A FEW MORE LINEN BUSTS left at Barman Bros. at $1 75.

SPARTAN B. B. CLUB.—The first regular monthly meeting of this club will be held this (Monday) evening at 8 o'clock, sharp.

The World says that in New York reside about four hundred and fifty men who earn their livelihood solely by decoying fools to faro. On the average the ropers-in of the metropolis earn about $10 per week each, or to speak accurately, about $1,600 per annum. Some weeks a professional may clear many hundreds of dollars, again for weeks he may receive no commission whatever, but computing the losses and gains of the season, his yearly profits may be estimated at the figures just given. Taking these as a basis, it is calculated that about $720,000, or nearly three quarters of a million dollars per annum (about $2,000 per diem), passes into the pockets of ropers-in, merely as their commissions on the losses of their victims, which must amount, on the average, to about three times those figures, or over $2,000,000 per annum lost unfairly at play through the instrumentality of agents. One of the largest operations in roping in occurred about three months since, the victim being a Southern merchant, sojourning at the St Nicholas Hotel. His loss at faro, as played on Prince street, amounted to over $8,000 his friend, a billiard sharp and roper in, receiving $2,821 money down as commission. In a somewhat similar case the roper in himself was cheated by his principal, who paid him but $100—the one tenth of his commission. A circus actor, a heavy outside operator, recently enticed $1,200 from the pockets of a countryman into the coffers of a faro bank up town. "Now, by St. Paul, the work goes bravely on." These are but specimens of a night's work among the unwary.

THE NEW YORK STATE CANALS.—The Sun, in a recent article says:

"The debt of this State, in round figures, is about fifty million dollars! To this sum it is proposed to add several millions more for the purpose of widening the State canals; the said canals are said to be worth about forty million dollars, and the question now arises whether it would not be better to sell them than to improve them. State canals are excellent institutions for draining State treasuries and filling the pockets of roguish politicians. They might be made remunerative, but under partisan management they never have been. The States of Pennsylvania and Ohio both disposed of their canals some years ago, very much to the satisfaction of tax-payers, and New York would do a sensible thing to follow the example of those States, and thus relieve the people of their immense burden of State debt."

PRIVATE BOARD.—Rev. Albert Kelley has moved to town for the purpose of keeping a private boarding house for young lady students. He has located on the corner of Clay and Sixth streets, being a central point between the Public Schools and handy to the Academy. Parents will find it a good reliable place for their daughters, with terms to suit the times.

"THE COLORS FOR ME."—That is what every lady says who has used the FAMILY DYE COLORS of Howe & Stevens. The fact plainly is that no other dyes have the slightest show when these are about. Sold by Smith & Davis.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER.
Travelers are always liable to sudden attacks of dysentery and cholera morbus, and those occurring when absent from home are very unpleasant. PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER may always be relied upon in such cases. As soon as you feel the symptoms, take one teaspoonful in a gill of new milk and it relieves, and a gill of hot water. Stir well together and drink hot. Repeat the dose every hour until relieved. If the pains be severe, bathe the bowels and back with the medicine, clear.
Fishermen, so often exposed to hurts by having their skin pierced with hooks and fins of fish, can be much relieved by bathing with a little Pain Killer as soon as the accident occurs; in this way the anguish is soon abated; bathe as often as once in five minutes, say three or four times, and you will seldom have any trouble. Sold by dealers everywhere.
HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU gives health and vigor to the frame and bloom to the pallid cheek. Debility is accompanied by many alarming symptoms, and if no treatment is submitted to, consumption, insanity, or epileptic fits ensue.
TAKE NO MORE UNPLEASANT AND UNSAFE REMEDIES for unpleasant and dangerous diseases. Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKET REVIEW.

San Francisco, Aug 27, 1867.

To say at any time that this market is "generally active," would be about an impossibility. Any one article may be active and in great demand, but a general activity could only be started by an old time stampede for new "diggings," or the want of supplies for an army.

For the last ten days there has been a good demand for groceries. There is a good jobbing business, and the jobbers stock up pretty freely to keep assortments good.

The crop of wheat now coming forward, it is generally admitted on all sides, will be about the same in quantity as last year—say 7,200,000 sacks, leaving a clear surplus of 5,000,000 sacks for exportation. That amount of crop for the last year, however, embraced 1,200,000 sacks on hand, and a great deal was known to be in the country. Hence, even if sales of 5,000,000 sacks are effected for the coming year, there will remain an accumulation of at least 300,000 sacks in the State altogether. But the chance of such sale is now becoming less. England is now almost the only customer, and her wants may with the harvest now just commencing there come suddenly to an end. There are those who look upon the shipments now being made on English account, to arrive out next December, as in the highest degree hazardous, and consequently that that demand may come to an end very soon, and all at once. If it shall be sustained until at least one-half the estimated surplus of the State is disposed of, a very great good will have been conferred upon the farming interest. It is to be hoped the opportunity to dispose of so large a portion of the State product will not be lost by indisposition to meet the market. We hope that the operations of last year will not be repeated, when $1 90@$1 90 was refused for wheat which was sent into store, and was sold in the spring at $1 60@$1 75, after paying storage, cartage, interest, etc., etc. A much greater loss would have been sustained but for the extraordinary state of affairs at the East, which allowed of such shipments via the Isthmus as relieved this market of 750,000 sacks of wheat in the shape of San Francisco flour, besides 400,000 sacks shipped around the Horn. By the time the crop comes to market, it is to be hoped and reasonably depended upon that the new line of steamers to China will have done much to extend the market for flour in that direction. The market there depends altogether upon price. The idea that Chinamen are so addicted to rice as not to buy flour is obsolete. They will, like anybody else, prefer flour when it is not relatively too high.

EXPORTS TO CHINA.

	Wheat, sks	Flour, bbls.	Price Wheat.
1861	21,376	20,645	$2 00
1862	21,059	17,179	1 75
1863	135,188	52,027	1 47
1864	147,236	54,579	2 70
1865		17,454	1 60
1866	274,012	98,469	1 55
1867	145,239	98,177	1 60

"Thus the market grows steadily, and swells with the decline in prices. Of course, when these terrible famines occur, which sends the price of rice up all over the East, the demand for flour swells in proportion. Where it is at hand it can promptly be supplied, as is the case here. When orders by telegraph can place flour in Hongkong or Shanghai in thirty days by steamer, the demand will grow and will never go backward, because 400,000,000 of mouths must be filled, and those who can buy wheat will not often indulge a weakness for rice."

These are the views of the Bulletin, and they urge farmers to sell at fair prices and not hold for fear of loss. Whatever market there may be in Japan, along the Amoor river in China, or the East Indies, for Wheat or Flour, the Portland market will feel the demand as soon as San Francisco, and no doubt your merchants would be as ready to venture as those who assemble at our Merchants' Exchange. There is one thing certain, and that is, the total crop of Wheat all over the world this year has been large and nearly every section has grain for export. Your local demand is far more than ours, for you have an immense field to supply. Our exports for the first half of the present month have been unusually large and comprised some 40,000 of Wheat and Flour, including a cargo to Hong and 6,000 sacks Wheat and 1,000 sacks Barley to New York of $184,576. During this period the Liverpool steamer took eleven full cargoes of Wheat to Great Britain. Here will be heavy losses for the contractors. By the Overland mail we have letters and papers from August 8th. The crops in Russia look quite a very heavy yield; there will, it is said, be an immense surplus of cereals for exportation.

The Southern States promise to have enough for their demand and Chicago promises overflowing times.

WHEAT—Wheat remains firm at $1 55 for choice, with exceptions at $1 57½ for extra choice reported at $1 57½ @ $1 60 for choice of 1000 sks choice Santa Clara, at $1 55; and 1000 sks private 1000 do good shipping at $1 52½, and 1200 sks at $1 50 @ 1 00 lbs.

FLOUR continues in demand at former prices. For superfine bakers' extra $6 50; do in half sks $6 75; extra family, both city and country mills, at $7 @ 7 50 for half sks, and $6@6 25 for qr sks; superfine in half sks at $5 75, qr sks at $5@5 25. One in half sks at $4, and qr do at $4 25 @ bbl. Oregon extra at $6 25@6 50 bbl; and superfine at $4 50@4 75 @ bbl. Some of Reynolds Vineyard Mills bakers' extra a $6 @ bbl.

A new brand called the Manhattan has been added to the list of city manufactured.

Barley Choice sells 840 tons, has been taken for Grain to Liverpool, rate not reserved.

The exports to Liverpool per ship Bunker Hill embrace 20,064 sacks Wheat [illegible] value $54,063 12.

The ship Star Prairie for Cork, has 26,765 sacks Wheat, [illegible] 7 25.

The ship [illegible] for Cork, has 24,364 sks Wheat, [illegible] 904, all on.

In the general market there is but little to attract remark.

Our market continues to be well supplied with kinds of Salt Fish, with perhaps the exception of Mackerel, the [illegible] of which is entirely in the hands of jobbers, and sold at $8 @ [illegible] by the kits and $13 62½@13 75 @ bbl. It may be regarded as a little singular that [illegible] of Halibut and Salmon, no [illegible] have been taken on the coast, nor has any substitute been found for them, so we are still dependent [illegible] the precarious supplies of these Fish. The [illegible] arrived from the north [illegible] 30,000 fish. These make the whole arrivals this [illegible] reaching an aggregate of 373,000 fish — [illegible] number received last year was 727,000. [illegible] is also at present [illegible] to be on route to this port [illegible] half bbls and [illegible] sks, against 380 half bbls and [illegible] bbls for the same [illegible] last year. It is generally [illegible] that the supply will arrive will no more than [illegible] at the present concessions in prices need [illegible] be expected. [illegible] the meantime Salmon move [illegible] at $6 for half bbls and $8 50 for bbls, and dry Codfish [illegible] at 9c @ 9½ c per lb.

By the arrival of the Pacific Mail steamer, we have dates from [illegible] to July 3rd [illegible] later than by the previous [illegible]. The commercial news is unimportant. The [illegible] steamer Alliance from New York, arrived after a [illegible] of 84 days, and was advertised for sale. The [illegible] cargo and 900 bags of sugar, mostly for [illegible]. Private letters are that the British bark [illegible] from Liverpool river, had arrived, and [illegible] with sugar for San Francisco.

The bark Kingsmill [illegible] it was will soon be dispatched [illegible] (formerly with Californian Flour and other stores, [illegible] be the first vessel ever sent hence to that Island, [illegible] which is largely under the control of American [illegible] Honolulu is one of the largest Islands of the [illegible] group, lying off the southern extremity of [illegible] and situated nearly on the equator. With the exception of Australia it is the largest Island in the world. [illegible] length is 780 miles, width 683 miles, embracing [illegible] area of 81,000 square miles, or twice the size of [illegible]. It is estimated that there are 500,000 Chinese on the Island as present, the total number of inhabitants [illegible] 2,000 and the products of the Island embrace [illegible] and all the kindred staples peculiar to a tropical country. William E. P. Krause goes out as [illegible] charge of the vessel about to be dispatched to the Island.

The Lumber interest of the city is said to be very much [illegible] for the remainder of the eight hour movement. Paper [illegible] a liberal demand for this season of the year, the [illegible] demand is also somewhat restricted [illegible] on account of high freights and the depression of the Australian market, upon which we have heretofore relied to a considerable extent.

[illegible] of the market is easy to the buyer. We quote [illegible] from mill ports at $10@12. Oregon pine is held at $16@17 for rough and $27@28 for dressed; Redwood $30 for rough and $30 for dressed; Laths and Pickets, $10 for rough and $17 for [illegible].

There was an immense trade sale by H. M. Newhall & Co., by far the largest ever held on the Pacific coast, after a four days selling. The catalogue (some 4,400 lots) number[illegible] a full session at of staple and fancy dry goods, etc. The [illegible] was good throughout, and prices well sustained [illegible] the end, which, considering the limited [illegible] of country buyers, length of catalogue and [illegible] state of the market, is quite remarkable. [illegible] and assortments (of which there were some 700 [illegible] of foreign and Oregon manufactures) sold low, but the style were generally undesirable and not suited to the market. The terms of sale were: $500 cash; under $1,000 30 days; under $2,000, 60 days; $2,000 and over, 90 days credit, for approved paper.

The shipment per Sacramento for New York and England on the 16th, was [illegible] $27,422 04

Previously this year [illegible] $220,622,580 00

Total since January 1, 1867 [illegible] $27,110 002 04

Corresponding period of 1866 [illegible] $30,722,408 00

Decrease this year [illegible] $3,611,396 96

"CAPITAL CITY CHRONICLE."

J. H. UPTON & A. NOLTNER, Proprietors.

ON SATURDAY, AUGUST 31, 1867, A LARGE SIZE WEEKLY PAPER, with the above title, will be issued at SALEM, OREGON.

The CHRONICLE will be devoted to Politics, News, and the development of the varied resources of the State. In politics the CHRONICLE will be unflinchingly Democratic, supporting and advocating all those reforms in National and State policy, so urgently demanded at the present time by every consideration involving the weal of the American people. The necessity for a Democratic organ firmly planted at the Capital, will be at once apparent to every thinking Democrat in the State. Such a one we propose to make the CAPITAL CITY CHRONICLE, and with the State thoroughly Democratic to-day, with all prospective changes in favor of that party, there is no valid reason why the enterprise shall not prove a complete success.

While the CHRONICLE will devote ample space to the discussion of political topics, the News of the day, the Agricultural Mining, Mechanical and Manufacturing interests of the State at large will receive due attention. A twenty-eight column paper, 26x38 inches in size, will furnish ample space and enable us to present in each number an amount of reading matter equal to the importance of the interests involved. We only ask at the hands of the people that legitimate patronage which shall enable us to present a sheet in every way creditable to ourselves and the State—one which none may have the least reason to be ashamed of.

All contracts for advertising and subscription existing with the late Democratic Review will be faithfully executed by the proprietor of the CHRONICLE.

Terms of Subscription:

Single copy, one year [illegible] $ 3 00
Five copies, one year [illegible] 13 75
Ten copies, one year [illegible] 25 00
And for any greater number, one year, at the rate of $2 50 each
